

1). Which material is best for earthing?

The best materials for earthing are GI wires and copper.

2). How many ohms are required for proper earthing?

One ohm or below one ohm is required for the proper earthing.

3). What is earth resistance value?

The earth resistance value is 5 ohms or less than 5 ohms.

4). What will happen if the earthing is not done?

If earthing is not done properly, all the household appliances will damage.

5). How do you identify an earth wire?

We can identify the earth wire by color, the color of the earth wire is green or yellow.